NABET-CWA Bargaining Summary 1-9-15

Your Bargaining Committee met with Company representatives for two days last week in Summerlin, Nevada.

The parties exchanged several proposals regarding work day, work week, days off etc., leaves of absence for Union business/meetings and a few other items. Unfortunately, no agreements were made during this session.

The Company refuses to agree to a work week that allows you two consecutive days off. Your committee believes your time off is extremely important to you, your family and your health and well-being. The Company clearly is more interested in their “operational needs” than your family and health needs.

Your direct involvement is critical in our ability to achieve the kind of contract we all want and deserve.

We have scheduled future meetings for March 11-13 and April 29-30.

Be sure to Like and follow your Union at facebook.com/NABET53 for the latest updates and news from your Local.

Your Negotiating Committee wants to remind you these bulletins are the official source of information during these negotiations. Information from any other sources should be considered rumor or hearsay.
